

Attention!

Programming Issues...

Due to the apparent difficulties with programming of certain mechatronic units, automatic choice cannot accept any responsibility for programming of this mechatronic unit.

It is of the utmost importance that the programming is carried out using manufacturer's specific instructions and using the correct O.E.M. equipment or a suitable alternative.

These mechatronic units are supplied from O.E. source's and are ordered individually according to your vehicles VIN, therefore they are special item and are not returnable for credit.